DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

The drawings filed 7/13/01 are acceptable by the Examiner.

Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper content of an abstract of the disclosure.

A patent abstract is a concise statement of the technical disclosure of the patent and should include that which is new in the art to which the invention pertains. If the patent is of a basic nature, the entire technical disclosure may be new in the art, and the abstract should be directed to the entire disclosure. If the patent is in the nature of an improvement in an old apparatus, process, product, or composition, the abstract should include the technical disclosure of the improvement. In certain patents, particularly those for compounds and compositions, wherein the process for making and/or the use thereof are not obvious, the abstract should set forth a process for making and/or use thereof. If the new technical disclosure involves modifications or alternatives, the abstract should mention by way of example the preferred modification or alternative.

The abstract should not refer to purported merits or speculative applications of the invention and should not compare the invention with the prior art.

Where applicable, the abstract should include the following:

- (1) if a machine or apparatus, its organization and operation;
- (2) if an article, its method of making;
- (3) if a chemical compound, its identity and use;
- (4) if a mixture, its ingredients;
- (5) if a process, the steps.

Extensive mechanical and design details of apparatus should not be given.

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it compares the invention with the prior art and because contains the legal phraseology "means" reserved for claims. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by applicants admitted prior art as depicted by figures 4-5 and as discussed on pages 1-6 of the written disclosure.

Applicant's admitted prior art teaches a motor driving device comprising a motor (20), a motor driver circuit for controlling motion of the motor (50, 60, 70 and 80). It is noted that separate circuits are combined to form a single circuit which controls motor motion. This combined circuit has a function of limiting a current supplied to the motor below a predetermined limit value (page 3, lines 12-16 and page 5, lines 9-22). The limitations of claim 1 are satisfied by this teaching. The limitations of claim 3 directed to a constant current are satisfied by page 5, lines 9-11. The limitations directed to a limit value required to drive the motor in a saturated state as set forth in claim 4 are satisfied by page 5, lines 13-22. The limitations of claim 5 directed to the use of a USB as an interface as a bus powered device that is supplied with electric power via the USB is satisfied by the USB connection as depicted in figure 4. The limitations of claim 6 directed to a disk device and stepping motor is satisfied by elements (10 and 20) of figure 4.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 7-17 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: It is noted that claim 2 is written in means plus function language. The specification has been referred to for obtaining a meaning of "adjusting means for adjusting the limit value". The specification discloses that this "means" is comprised of a resistor  $R_s$  as depicted in figures 1A and 1B that is connected in such a way to provide a feedback control so that the voltage across this resistor is kept below a predetermined voltage. This type of arrangement is neither taught by nor an obvious variation of the art of record. Claims 7 and 13 distinctly point out this feature as discussed above with respect to claim 2. Claims 8-12 and 14-17 depend on claims 7 and 13 respectively.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Gan et al. is directed to a device for obtaining a constant velocity park for a voice coil motor. Kano and Lewis are directed to PWM control of motors and Wakuda is directed to a motor driver circuit.
